A Guide to Filling Out the Call for Abstracts

Please refer to the guidelines below should any part of the submission process seem unclear.

Categorizing your abstract

- Please select the topic which best categorizes your abstract. This is critical, as this topic will later be used to assign relevant reviewers to your work.
- You are also asked to provide keywords. Keywords will be helpful later on as they will assist in the indexing of your entry, making it more easy to find by delegates/attendees to the meeting.

Provide the content of your abstract

- Please review the different content sections that you will be required to submit. Each section has a clear title specifying exactly what you'll need to provide in each space.

Answer the disclosure statement

- Please disclose whether you have any conflicts of interest. Selecting 'Yes' will then prompt you to provide a description of that conflict.

More information

- Please be sure to fill this section out to the best of your ability.

Add any co-authors

- Please add any co-authors here. All will be notified of the submission once you've completed that here.
